PUBLIC HEARING

GOLD BEACH CITY COUNCIL AGENDA REPORT

Agenda Item No. 6.

TITLE: Update to proposed FOG ordinance amendment

SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND:

We reviewed a revised FOG ordinance several times last year. As you may recall, the State Building Codes Division requested that we make changes to our proposed ordinance. I have made the appropriate changes. The changes in the document are in BOLD text. The language the state requested to be removed is in ~~STRIKE THROUGH~~. For brevity I thought it would be easier to explain proposed changes at the public hearing. The State's main concerns were that our definitions reflect the state Plumbing Code language, and that the City's requirements were not more restrictive than the Plumbing Code. This makes enforcement a little more onerous for us but evidently there is no way around their requirements. A public hearing is required prior to the first reading of this amended ordinance.

FINANCIAL IMPACT:

None at this time.

DOCUMENTS ATTACHED:

The amended Ordinance No. 647 which amends the City Utility Code

REQUESTED MOTION/ACTION:

Review and make any suggested changes to proposed ordinance. A final copy for a first reading will be presented next month.

COPY OF REPORT AND ATTACHMENTS SENT TO:

Will Newdall, Public Works Superintendent

NOTE: Changes required by State Building Codes are in BOLD text

ORDINANCE NO. 647

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTIONS 3.410, 3.425, 3.445, 3.455, AND 3.460 OF THE GOLD BEACH UTILITY CODE; ~~AND ADOPTING A FOG COMPLIANCE TIMELINE~~

WHEREAS, the City of Gold Beach wishes to ensure that its public sewer remains in good working condition and complies with applicable requirements of the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality and United States Environmental Protection Agency regarding the regulation of the discharge of fats, oils, greases and other substances into the public sewer;

NOW, THEREFORE; THE CITY OF GOLD BEACH ORDAINS AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Section 3.410 of the Gold Beach Utility Code is amended to read as follows:

3.410 Definitions. Unless the context specifically indicates otherwise, the meaning of terms used in this sewer code shall be as follows:

(1) “BOD” (denoting Biochemical Oxygen Demand) shall mean the quantity of oxygen utilized in the biochemical oxidation of organic matter under standard laboratory procedure in five days at 20°C, expressed in milligrams per liter.

(2) ~~“Building drain” shall mean that part of the lowest horizontal piping of a drainage system which receives the discharge from soil, waste and other drainage pipes inside the walls of the building and conveys it to the building sewer, beginning five (5) feet (1.5 meters) outside the inner face of the building wall.~~

“Building Drain” shall mean that part of the lowest piping of a drainage system that receives the discharge from soil, waste, and other drainage pipes inside the walls of the building and conveys it to the building sewer beginning two (2) feet (610 mm) outside the building wall. (Oregon Plumbing Specialty Code definition)

(3) ~~“Building sewer” shall mean the extension from the building drain to the public sewer or other place of disposal.~~

“Building Sewer” shall mean that part of the horizontal piping of a drainage system that extends from the end of the building drain and that receives the discharge of the building drain and conveys it to a public sewer, private sewer, private sewage disposal system, or other point of disposal. (Oregon Plumbing Specialty Code definition)

(4) ~~“Combined sewer” shall mean a sewer receiving both surface runoff and sewage.~~

“Building Sewer Combined” shall mean a building sewer that conveys both sewage and storm water or other drainage. (Oregon Plumbing Specialty Code definition)

(Oregon Plumbing Specialty Code definition)

(7) “Equivalent Residential Unit (ERU)” shall mean a volume of wastewater which incurs the same costs for operations and maintenance as the average volume of domestic waste discharged from an average residential dwelling unit in the treatment works service area. For purposes of making this determination the City shall utilize the metered water use records of the City. Where a user believes his wastewater discharge to the treatment works is substantially different than his water consumption, an appropriate adjustment shall be made providing the user demonstrates to the satisfaction of the City the actual wastewater discharge. The volume attributed to an ERU where the BOD, suspended solids or other characteristic of the wastewater discharged by a user is significantly greater than domestic waste shall be adjusted to account for the difference in the costs of treatment. The superintendent shall file a list of ERU’s for each commercial establishment.

(8) “FOG” shall mean a substance or material discharged into the public sewer that has the potential to partially or completely obstruct a building sewer or any sewage works. FOG includes both polar and non-polar FOG.

(9) “FOG Generator” shall mean any commercial user that discharges FOG into the public sewer, including but not limited commercial users that operate food service establishments, commercial laundries, car washes, filling stations, commercial garages, and similar businesses with any type of washing facilities (including pressure washing and steam cleaning).

~~(11) “Industrial wastes” shall mean liquid wastes from any nongovernmental user of publicly owned treatment works identified in the standard Industrial Classification Manual, 1972, Office of Management and Budget, under Divisions A,B,D,E and I.~~

“Industrial Waste” shall mean any and all liquid or water-borne waste from industrial or commercial processes, except domestic sewage. (Oregon Plumbing Specialty Code definition)

(12) "Natural outlet" shall mean any outlet into a watercourse, pond, ditch, lake or other body of surface or ground water.

(15) "Ph" shall mean the logarithm of the reciprocal of the weight of hydrogen ions in grams per liter of solution.

(16) "Polar FOG" shall mean FOG of animal or vegetable origin, including but not limited to fats and oils.

(17) "Properly shredded garbage" shall mean the wastes from the preparation, cooking and dispensing of food that have been shredded to such a degree that all particles will be carried freely under the flow conditions normally prevailing in public sewers, with no particle greater than 1/2 inch (1.27 centimeters) in any dimension.

RENUMBER AFTER REVIEW

"Public Facilities User" shall mean any public owned facility user including but not limited to: publicly owned recreational, medical, correctional, educational, or other similar facility. Examples are fairgrounds, hospitals and assisted living facilities, jails, and schools.

(25) "Sewer" shall mean a pipe or conduit for carrying sewage.

(26) "Sewer user" shall mean any person specifically requesting sewer service or using city sewers.

(27) "Shall" is mandatory; "may" is permissive.

(28) "Slug" shall mean any discharge of water, sewage or industrial waste which in concentration of any given constituent or in quantity of flow exceeds for any period of duration longer than fifteen (15) minutes more than five (5) times the average 24-hour concentration or flows during normal operation.

(29) ~~"Storm drain" (sometimes termed "storm sewer") shall mean a sewer which carries storm and surface waters and drainage, but excludes sewage and industrial wastes other than unpolluted cooling water.~~

Section 2. Section 3.425 of the Gold Beach Utility Code is amended to read as follows:

3.425 Building Sewers and Connections.

(1) No unauthorized person shall uncover, make any connections with or opening into, use, alter or disturb any public sewer or appurtenance thereof without first obtaining a written permit from the superintendent.

(2) There shall be four classes of building sewer permits:

(a) Residential, which shall include single-family residences, apartments, duplexes and courts.

(b) Residential/commercial, which shall cover hotels and motels, etc.

- (c) Commercial, which shall cover commercial non-residential uses.
- (d) Industrial, for service to establishments producing industrial waste.

(3) Prior to receiving city sewer service, a person shall make application to the City Administrator for a sewer hookup permit, on a form prescribed by the City. The application shall include consent to allow city inspectors to enter onto the premises during business hours to inspect, observe, measure, sample, and test sewage discharges. The application shall be supplemented by any plans, specifications or other information considered pertinent in the judgment of the City Administrator or the superintendent. The applicant shall state the use for which sewer service is required.

(4) If the applicant is a FOG generator, in addition to the application materials required by paragraph (3) of this section, the applicant must also submit the following management plan for the City's review and approval, which shall include:

- (a) The name or position of the staff person in charge of compliance with the City's sewer regulations;

- (h) A requirement for documentation of actions taken to reduce discharge of FOG, including but not limited to training sign off sheets and maintenance, cleaning, and incident reports.

(5) If the use for which sewer service is required changes so that a different class of building sewer permit would be applicable, the sewer user shall apply for a new permit and pay all charges required for an initial permit.

(6) All costs and expense incident to the installation and connection of the building sewer, and any inceptor or other device required by section 3.445(6) of this code shall be borne by the owner. The owner shall indemnify the City from any loss or damage that may directly or indirectly be occasioned by the installation of the building sewer.

(7) A separate and independent building sewer shall be provided for every building; except where one building stands at the rear of another on an interior lot and no private sewer is available or can be constructed to the rear building through an adjoining alley, courtyard or driveway, the building sewer from the front building may be extended to the rear building and the whole considered as one building sewer.

(8) Old building sewers may be used in connection with new buildings only when they are found, on examination and test by the superintendent, to meet all requirements of this Code.

(9) The size, slope, alignment, materials of construction of a building sewer, and the methods to be used in excavating, placing of the pipe, jointing, testing and backfilling the trench, shall all conform to the requirements, rules and regulations as now composed or in the future amended by the state of Oregon through its authorized and delegated representative in administering a state sewer code. In the absence of code provisions or in amplification thereof, the materials and procedures set forth in appropriate specifications of the A.S.T.M. and W.P.C.F. Manual of Practice No. 9 shall apply.

(10) Whenever possible, the building sewer shall be brought to the building at an elevation below the basement floor. In all buildings in which any building drain is too low to permit gravity flow to the public sewer, sanitary sewage carried by such building drain shall be lifted by an approved means and discharged from the building.

(11) No person shall make connection of roof downspouts, exterior foundation drains, area way drains or other sources of surface runoff or groundwater to a building sewer or building drain which in turn is connected directly or indirectly to a public sanitary sewer.

(12) The connection of the building sewer into the public sewer shall conform to the requirements, rules and regulations as now composed or in the future amended by the state of Oregon through its authorized and delegated representative in administering a state sewer code. All such connections shall be made gastight and watertight. Any deviation from the prescribed procedures and materials must be approved by the superintendent before installation.

(13) The applicant for the building sewer permit shall notify the superintendent when the building sewer is ready for inspection and connection to the public sewer. The connection shall be made under the supervision of the superintendent or his representative.

(14) All excavations for building sewer installation shall be adequately guarded with barricades and lights so as to protect the public from hazard. Streets, sidewalks, parkways and other public property disturbed in the course of the work shall be restored in a manner satisfactory to the City. In addition, when any sewer work involves street or alley pavement cuts or tunneling, the work shall be performed in accordance with the provisions of the Gold Beach Local Improvement Code.

Section 3. Section 3.445 of the Gold Beach Utility Code is amended to read as follows:

3.445 Use of the Public Sewers.

(1) No person shall discharge or cause to be discharged any stormwater, surface water, ground water, roof runoff, subsurface drainage, uncontaminated cooling water or unpolluted industrial process water to any sanitary sewer.

(2) Stormwater and all other unpolluted drainage shall be discharged to such sewers as are specifically designated as combined sewers or storm sewers or to a natural outlet approved by the superintendent. Industrial cooling water or unpolluted process waters may be discharged, or approval of the superintendent, to a storm sewer, combined sewer or natural outlet.

(3) No person shall discharge or cause to be discharged any of the following-described waters or wastes to any public sewers:

(a) Any gasoline, benzene, naphtha, fuel oil or other flammable or explosive liquid, solid or gas.

(b) Any waters or wastes containing toxic or poisonous solids, liquids or gases in sufficient quantity, either singly or by interaction with other wastes, to injure or interfere with any sewage treatment process, constitute a hazard to humans or animals, create a public nuisance, or create any hazard in the receiving waters of the sewage treatment plant, including but not limited to cyanides in excess of two mg/l as CN in the wastes as discharged to the public sewer.

(c) Any waters or wastes having a pH lower than 5.5 or having any other corrosive property capable of causing damage or hazard to structures, equipment and personnel of the sewage works.

(d) Solid or viscous substances in quantities or of such size capable of causing obstruction to the flow in sewers, or other interference with the proper operation of the sewage works such as, but not limited to, ashes, cinders, sand, mud, straw, shavings, metal, glass, rags, feathers, tar, plastics, wood, unground garbage, whole blood, paunch manure, hair and fleshings, entrails; and paper dishes, cups, milk containers, etc., either whole or ground by garbage grinders.

(4) No person shall discharge or cause to be discharged the following-described substances, materials, waters or wastes if it appears likely in the opinion of the superintendent that such wastes can harm either the sewers, sewage treatment process or equipment, have an adverse effect on the receiving stream, or can otherwise endanger life, limb, public property or constitute a nuisance. In forming his opinion as to the acceptability of these wastes, the superintendent will give consideration to such factors as to quantities of subject wastes in relation to flows and velocities in the sewers, materials of construction of the sewers, nature of the sewage treatment process, capacity of the sewage treatment plant, degree of treatability of wastes in the sewage treatment plant, and other pertinent factors. The substances prohibited are:

- (a) Any liquid or vapor having a temperature higher than 150°F (65°C).
- (b) Any water or waste containing fats, wax, grease or oils, whether emulsified or not, in excess of 100 mg/l or containing substances which may solidify or become viscous at temperatures between 32° and 150°F (0° and 65°C).
- (c) Any garbage that has not been properly shredded. The installation and operation of any garbage grinder equipped with a motor of three-fourths horsepower (0.76 hp metric) or greater shall be subject to the review and approval of the superintendent.
- (d) Any waters or wastes containing strong acid iron pickling wastes, or concentrated plating solutions, whether neutralized or not.
- (e) Any waters or wastes containing iron, chromium, copper, zinc and similar objectionable or toxic substances; or wastes exerting an excessive chlorine requirement, to such degree that any such material received in the composite sewage at the sewage treatment works exceeds the limits established by the superintendent for such materials.
- (f) Any waters or wastes containing phenols or other taste- or odor-producing substance in such concentrations exceeding limits which may be established by the superintendent, as necessary, after treatment of the composite sewage, to meet the requirements of the state, federal or other public agencies of jurisdiction for such discharge to the receiving waters.
- (g) Any radioactive wastes or isotopes of such half-life or concentration as may exceed limits established by the superintendent in compliance with applicable state or federal regulations.
- (h) Any waters or wastes having a pH in excess of (9.5).
- (i) Materials that exert or cause:
 - (i) Unusual concentration of inert suspended solids such as, but not limited to, fullers earth, lime slurries, and lime residues; or of dissolved solids such as, but not limited to, sodium chloride and sodium sulfate.
 - (ii) Excessive discoloration such as, but not limited to, dye wastes and vegetable tanning solutions.

(iii) Unusual BOD, chemical oxygen demand or chlorine requirements in such quantities as to constitute a significant load on the sewage treatment works.

(iv) Unusual volume of flow or concentration of wastes constituting “slugs” as defined herein.

(j) Waters or wastes containing substances which are not amenable to treatment or reduction by the sewage treatment processes employed, or are amenable to treatment only to such degree that the sewage treatment plant effluent cannot meet the requirements of other agencies having jurisdiction over discharge to the receiving waters.

(k) Effluent containing more than 100 mg/liter of polar FOG

(j) Effluent containing more than 250 mg/liter of non-polar sediments including sand, lint, and grit.

(5) If any waters or wastes are discharged or are proposed to be discharged to the public sewers, which waters contain the substances or possess the characteristics enumerated in section (4) above, and which in the judgment of the superintendent may have a deleterious effect upon the sewage works, processes, equipment or receiving waters, or which otherwise create a hazard to life or constitute a public nuisance, the superintendent may:

(a) Reject the wastes;

(b) Require pretreatment to an acceptable condition for discharge to the public sewers;

(c) Require control over quantities and rates of discharge; and/or

(d) Require payment to cover the added cost of handling and treating the wastes not covered by existing taxes or sewer charges;

(e) Require installation of grease interceptors, traps, or biological processes that comply with standards adopted by the City prior to discharging into the public sewer.

If the superintendent permits the pretreatment or equalization of waste flows, the design and installation of the plants and equipment shall be subject to the review and approval of the superintendent, and subject to the requirements of all applicable codes, ordinances and laws.

If the superintendent requires installation of grease interceptors, traps or biological processes the grease inceptor, trap or biological process must be accessible for sampling, cleaning and inspection, must be properly maintained by the FOG generator, and must remain in continuous operation. The FOG generator must also provide a suitable location to allow city staff to sample representative effluent discharged by the FOG generator.

(6) — ~~FOG generators must install grease interceptors, traps, or biological processes, that comply with standards adopted by the City prior to discharging into the public sewer. The grease inceptor, trap or biological process must be accessible for sampling, cleaning and inspection, must be properly maintained by the FOG generator, and must remain in continuous operation. The FOG generator must also provide a suitable location to allow city staff to sample representative effluent discharged by the FOG generator.~~

(RENUMBER AFTER REVIEW)

(7) Where preliminary treatment or flow-equalizing facilities are provided for any water or wastes, they shall be maintained continuously in satisfactory and effective operation by the owner at the owner's expense.

(8) When required by the superintendent, the owner of any property serviced by a building sewer carrying industrial wastes shall install a ~~suitable control manhole~~, a sampling port, together with such necessary meters and other appurtenances in the building sewer as to facilitate observation, sampling and measurement of the wastes. Such manhole, when required, shall be accessibly and safely located, and shall be constructed in accordance with plans approved by the superintendent. The manhole shall be installed by the owner at his expense and shall be maintained by him so as to be safe and accessible at all times.

(9) All measurements, tests and analyses of the characteristics of waters and wastes to which reference is made in this Code shall be determined in accordance with the latest edition of "Standard Methods for the Examination of Water and Wastewater," published by the American Public Health Association, and shall be determined at the control manhole provided, or upon suitable samples taken at said control manhole. In the event that no special manhole has been required, the control manhole shall be considered to be the nearest downstream manhole in the public sewer to the point at which the building sewer is connected. Sampling shall be carried out by customarily accepted methods to reflect the effect of constituents upon the sewage works and to determine the existence of hazards to life, limb and property. (The particular analyses involved will determine whether a 24-hour composite of all outfalls of a premises is appropriate or whether a grab sample or samples should be taken. Normally, but not always, BOD and suspended solids analyses are obtained from 24-hour composites of all outfalls, whereas pH's are determined from periodic grab samples.)

(10) No statement contained in this Code shall be construed as preventing any special agreement or arrangement between the City and any industrial concern whereby an industrial waste of unusual strength or character may be accepted by the City for treatment, subject to payment therefore by the industrial concern.

(11) Industrial users shall comply with Section 204 of PL 92-500 and the rules and regulations regarding Industrial Cost Recovery as published in the August 21, 1973, Federal Register, Volume 38, Number 161.

Section 4. Section 3.455 of the Gold Beach Utility Code is amended to read as follows:

3.455 Powers and Authority of Inspectors.

(1) With the consent of the property owner or other person with possession or control of the property, the superintendent and other duly authorized employees of the City bearing proper credentials and identification may enter onto private property for the purposes of inspection, observation, measurement, sampling and testing in accordance with the provisions of this Code. The superintendent or his representatives shall have no authority to inquire into any processes including metallurgical, chemical, oil refining, ceramic, paper or other industries beyond that point having a direct bearing on the kind and source of discharge to the sewers or waterways or facilities for waste treatment.

(2) In the event that the superintendent cannot gain permission to enter onto private property from the property owner or other person with possession or control of the property, the superintendent may seek entry through any legal means including, without limitation, making application to any court of competent jurisdiction for issuance of a warrant. The warrant application will identify the premises upon which entry is sought, and the purpose for which entry is desired.

(3) The superintendent and other duly authorized employees of the City bearing proper credentials and identification shall be permitted to enter all private properties through which the City holds a duly negotiated easement for the purposes of, but not limited to, inspection, observation, measurement, sampling, repair and maintenance of any portion of the sewage works lying within said easement. All entry and subsequent work, if any, on said easement, shall be done in full accordance with the terms of the duly negotiated easement pertaining to the private property involved.

Section 5. Section 3.460 of the Gold Beach Utility Code is amended to read as follows:

3.460 Procedure for Disconnection; Appeal Procedure; Penalties.

In every case where a sewer account is not paid by the 25th day of the month after the bill is presented, or where any premises is in violation of this Code, the following steps may be taken:

(1) In the case where the violation is a delinquency in the sewer bill, the Sewer Department shall send written notice to the last known address of the sewer user and to the premises as reflected by City records, that water service will be disconnected ten (10) days after the date of said notice unless the arrearage is immediately corrected. Said notice shall indicate the amount of all arrearages, including penalty fees and shall indicate that if any person disputes the amount owing, they can appeal to the City Administrator in the manner provided in subsection (3) of this section.

(2) In the case of any other violation, the City Sewer Department shall send written notice to the last known address of the sewer user and to the premises as reflected by the city records that water service will be disconnected twenty (20) days after receipt of said notice, unless the violation is corrected prior to that date. Said notice shall indicate specifically the violation causing the disconnection and shall indicate that if any affected person disputes the violation stated in the notice, they can appeal to the City Administrator and the City Council in the manner provided in subsection (3) of this section. Should the violation not be abated within the said twenty (20) days after receipt of the notice, the superintendent shall be instructed by written order from the City Administrator's office to immediately terminate the water service to the subject property unless an appeal has been filed pursuant to subsection (3) of this section.

(3) A customer, occupant or owner of the premises who questions or disputes the correctness of a notice of intent to disconnect service may file with the City Administrator a request for a hearing within seven (7) days of the date of the notice. If a hearing has been timely requested, the City Administrator shall hold an informal conference to attempt to resolve the matter. In the case of a notice of intent to disconnect service for non-payment, the decision of the City Administrator shall be delivered at the conclusion of the informal conference and shall be final. In other cases, if no informal resolution is achieved, the City Council shall hold a hearing and consider relevant evidence presented by the appellant and the City. The Council shall determine whether the reasons prompting the notice of intent to disconnect are correct. Notice of the decision of the Council shall be mailed by first class mail to the customer at the billing address and to the occupant of the premises and to any other address specified by the appellant. In the event of an appeal to the City Council, service shall not be terminated until three (3) days after mailing of the notice of the decision. A notice of intent to disconnect service shall include information about the appeal process contained in this subsection.

(4) Where the violation is failure to pay delinquent sewer fees and penalties, water service may be reinstated upon payment of those fees. For any other violation, water service shall not be reinstated until such time that all violations have been cured, and a new application has been made and all fees required for initial application have been paid.

(5) Any person violating any of the provisions of this Code shall become liable to the City for any expense, loss or damage occasioned to the City by reason of such violation.

~~Section 6. The hearing was conducted according to the rules of procedure and conduct of hearings on land use matters as set forth in the Gold Beach Zoning Ordinance. The City Council received oral and written testimony concerning the application.

At the December 9, 2013 hearing the City Council, upon a motion duly made and seconded, voted to APPROVE the request as set forth above based on decision criteria, findings of fact, and conclusions of law as set forth in this order.

DECISION CRITERIA:

Gold Beach Comprehensive Plan

Goal 9 – Economy

Goal 10 – Housing

Land Use Classifications

Gold Beach Zoning Ordinance

ARTICLE VIII Amendments to the Zoning Ordinance

Section 8.010 Authorization to Initiate Amendments

Section 8.020 Application for a Zone Change

Section 8.030 Public Hearing on Zoning Amendment

Section 8.040 Criteria and Burden of Proof for an Amendment to the Zoning Map
Section 8.050 Zone Changes with Conditions

FINDINGS OF FACT:

- 1) The City Council adopts the findings in the Staff Report as the basis for this decision specifically:
 - a. The portion of the subject property that is subject to this zone change application is not particularly suitable for residential development and does not meet the comprehensive plan stated purpose of the Residential land use classification.
 - b. The portion of the subject property that is subject to this zone change application does meet the comprehensive plan stated purpose of the Commercial land use classification.
 - c. The applicant has met, with their written findings, the burden of proof to approve the requested zone change.
 - d. The intent of the split zoning of the subject property is unclear and it appears there may have been an error in the adoption of the original map.
- 2) The proposed zone change helps to offset previous conversion of commercially zoned properties to residential uses.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The burden of proof is upon the applicant in providing the proposal fully complies with applicable criteria. The City Council finds that, based on the staff report and evidence and testimony presented at the hearing, that the applicant has sufficiently met the burden of proof needed to approve the requested comprehensive plan map and zoning map change.

NOW THEREFORE LET IT BE ORDERED that application GBZ-1301, a request to change the comprehensive plan map and zoning map designations from Residential (3-R) to Commercial (4-C) on a portion of property identified as Assessor Map No. 3715-01AA tax lot 4400 is APPROVED.

This order in the approval of Application GBZ-1301 reviewed and approved by the Gold Beach City Council on this 13th day of January, 2014.

GOLD BEACH CITY COUNCIL AGENDA REPORT

Agenda Item No. 10 b.

TITLE: Social Gaming Code amendment

SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND:

Some time back we discussed amending the Social Gaming Code to spell out private games and fundraising events. The question was asked if the State regulated gaming. I downloaded this from the Oregon State Police Gaming Division:

http://www.oregon.gov/osp/gaming/Pages/tgaming_faqs.aspx

5. What is social gaming?

A game, other than a lottery, between players in a private home where no house player, house bank or house odds exist and there is no house income from the operation of the social game; and

If authorized pursuant to ORS 167.121, a game, other than a lottery, between players in a private business, private club or place of public accommodation where no house player, house bank or house odds exist and there is no house income from the operation of the social game.

6. Does the State regulate social gaming?

No. Oregon Revised Statute 167.121, local regulation of social games. Counties and cities may, by ordinance, authorize the playing or conducting of a social game in a private business, private club or in a place of public accommodation. Such ordinances may provide for regulation or licensing of the social games authorized.

Note: 167.121 was enacted into law by the Legislative Assembly but was not added to or made a part of ORS chapter 167 or any series therein by legislative action. See Preface to Oregon Revised Statutes for further explanation.

I went to review ORS 167.121 and found a 2010 Department of Justice opinion on social gaming (attached) that concerns me. I think it would be prudent to review this with legal counsel before we spend too much time on revising the ordinance. I will speak with legal counsel prior to the meeting and report to the council.

FINANCIAL IMPACT:

None at this time.

Re: Opinion Request OP-2010-1

Dear Lieutenant Chastain:

Gambling is unlawful in Oregon unless the legislature specifically authorizes it. See ORS 167.122 (participating in unlawful gambling as a player is a Class A misdemeanor); ORS 167.127 (promoting or profiting from unlawful gambling is a Class C felony); ORS 167.117(24) (“unlawful” means “not specifically authorized by law”). For these purposes, gambling does not include “social games.” ORS 167.117(7)(c).

To qualify as a “social game,” a game must be “between players” and must not have any “house player,” “house bank,” “house odds,” or “house income.” ORS 167.117(21). But the legislature did not define any of those terms except “player.” This raises questions as to whether certain games qualify as social games. You ask us to interpret several key terms in the definition to clarify the circumstances in which a game will meet the criteria for the social-game exception. Below, we set out your specific questions and our short answers, followed by a discussion.

QUESTIONS AND SHORT ANSWERS

As used in ORS 167.117(21)’s definition of “social games,” what do the following mean:

Question 1: The requirement that the “game” be “between players?”

The requirement that a social game be “between players” means that any person betting in a social game must qualify as a “player” under ORS 167.117(16).

Question 2: “House?”

As used in the definition of “social games,” “house” means: (1) all private businesses, private clubs, and places of public accommodation where social games occur, including their owners, managers and employees; and, (2) any person who operates what would otherwise be a social game for profit rather than for social purposes. “Operates” for those purposes includes any action described in ORS 167.117(18) that materially aids the game.

Question 3: The prohibition on a “house player?”

The prohibition on a “house player” means that the house may not in any circumstance bet in a social game.

Question 4: The prohibition on a “house bank?”

We interpret the prohibition on a “house bank” to mean that the house may not act as a banker in a social game by having any involvement in the financial aspects of the game, including selling, keeping, and redeeming chips even if the house makes no profit from doing so.

Question 5: The prohibition of “house odds?”

We interpret this prohibition to mean that the house may not have any advantage in a social game or establish the ratio between the amount of a bet and the payoff amount.

Question 6: The prohibition of “house income?”

This prohibition means that the house may not make any money directly from operation of the game or from its participants. Businesses where social games occur may not charge for participation in the game, a rental fee for the room, table, or equipment or otherwise extract money from social game participants. Those businesses may make money from selling food and drink to social game players on the same terms that they sell those goods to all other patrons. Even if an establishment sells food and drink on the same terms to all patrons, if it charges inflated prices in relation to other similar establishments and its only patrons are social game players that may be evidence that the establishment is in fact making income from operation of social games.

SOCIAL GAME DEFINITION

ORS 167.117(7) defines the term “gambling” for purposes of the gambling offense statutes, ORS 167.108 to 167.164, and excludes “social games from that definition:

“Gambling” means that a person stakes or risks something of value upon the outcome of a contest of chance or a future contingent event not under the control or influence of the person, upon an agreement or understanding that the person or someone else will receive something of value in the event of a certain outcome.

Gambling does not include:

(c) Social games.

(Emphasis added.)

“Social game” is defined by ORS 167.117(21) to mean:

(a) A game, other than a lottery, between players in a private home where no house player, house bank or house odds exist and there is no house income from the operation of the social game; and,

(b) If authorized pursuant to ORS 167.121, a game, other than a lottery, between players in a private business, private club or place of public accommodation where no house player, house bank or house odds exist and there is no house income from the operation of the social game.

ORS 167.121 permits cities and counties to authorize social games in private businesses, private clubs or places of public accommodation.¹⁷ The requirements for social games are the same in those places and private homes. You ask us to clarify the requirement that the game be “between players” and the prohibitions on “house” activity.

“BETWEEN PLAYERS” REQUIREMENT

1. Statutory interpretation

In interpreting the phrase “between players” (as well as the other terms about which you inquire), we follow the statutory interpretation method set out by the Oregon Supreme Court in PGE v. Bureau of Labor and Industries, 317 Or 606, 610, 859 P2d 1143 (1993), and subsequently refined in State v. Gaines, 346 Or 160, 171-172, 206 P3d 1042 (2009). The first step is an examination of the statute’s text and context. PGE, 317 Or at 610-11. In doing so, we apply statutory and judicial rules for reading the text and context, including giving terms of common usage their plain meanings. Id. The second step is to consider legislative history where it appears useful to the analysis of the statute. Gaines, 346 Or at 171-172. The third and final step is resort to general maxims of statutory construction to aid in resolving any uncertainty as to the legislature’s intent that remains “after examining text, context, and legislative history.” Id.

2. Defined

a. “Between”

While the statutory definition of “social games” was initially enacted in 1973 and amended in 1974 (as discussed at length later in this opinion), the “between players” statutory language predates that definition and was enacted in 1971. When we consider the plain meaning of a statute’s text under the interpretational method described in PGE and Gaines, we are directed to consult dictionaries in existence around the time of the enactment of the statute. See, e.g., State v. Perry, 336 Or 49, 53, 77 P3d 313 (2003). Accordingly, we consult the 1961 edition of WEBSTER’S THIRD NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY (UNABRIDGED), but note that the pertinent definitions in the 1961 edition are identical to those in the most current edition published in 2002. Beginning with “between,” the most apt plain meaning is “involving the reciprocal action of: involving as participants: jointly engaging <the job was completed between the two of them> <two years of quiet talks between the three>.” WEBSTER’S THIRD NEW INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY at 209 (unabridged 1961). As the examples illustrate, “between” implies exclusivity; accordingly “between players” means between players only.

b. “Player”

ORS 167.117(16) defines “player” to mean:

[A] person who engages in any form of gambling solely as a contestant or bettor, without receiving or becoming entitled to receive any profit therefrom other than personal gambling winnings, and without otherwise rendering any material assistance to the establishment, conduct or operation of the particular gambling activity. A person who gambles at a social game of chance on equal terms with the other participants therein is a person who does not otherwise render material assistance to the establishment, conduct or operation thereof by performing, without fee or remuneration, acts directed toward the arrangement or facilitation of the game, such as inviting persons to play, permitting the use of premises therefor and supplying cards or other equipment used therein. A person who engages in bookmaking is not a player.

(1) Conundrum posed by “gambling” requirement

The first requirement for a “player” is that the person must engage in gambling – that is stake or risk something of value upon the outcome of the game in return for the chance to receive something of value if they win. The requirement that a “player” must “gamble” creates a recurring conundrum in interpreting the term “social game.” Namely, ORS 167.117(7)(c) excludes “social games” from the definition of “gambling,” so a person who plays in a social game does not engage in “gambling.” But ORS 167.117(21) defines “social game” as a game “between players,” and ORS 167.117(16) defines “player” to require that a player engage in “gambling.” In short, no game could ever qualify as a “social game” under those definitions, because no one who plays in a social game is a “player,” but social games must be “between players.”^{2/}

The obvious solution is to interpret “gambling,” as used in ORS 167.117(16)’s definition of “player” to mean “gambling,” as defined in ORS 167.117(7), omitting the exclusion for social games contained in subsection (7)(c). It might be argued that such an interpretation requires us to omit words that have been inserted in the definition of “gambling” in violation of the rule that we refrain from doing just that. See ORS 174.010 (in construing statute, judges should not “omit what has been inserted”). But ORS 167.117 provides that its definitions apply “[a]s used in ORS 167.108 to 167.164” “unless the context requires otherwise.” (Emphasis added.) The context here requires us to adopt a modified definition of “gambling” for the purposes of the social game definition. Also, we must adopt a construction that gives effect to all provisions of a statute, if possible. ORS 174.010 (“where there are several provisions or particulars such construction is, if possible, to be adopted as will give effect to all”).

We conclude that, for purposes of ORS 167.117(21)'s definition of "social game," the legislature likely intended "gambling," as used in ORS 167.117(16)'s definition of "player" to mean gambling as defined by ORS 167.117(7), excluding the social game exception in subsection (7)(c). Applying that definition, a "player" in a social game must stake or risk something of value upon the outcome of the contest, i.e., bet, in the game.

A "player" must engage in gambling "solely as a contestant or bettor." That means, first, that the person may not receive or become entitled to receive "any profit therefrom other than personal gambling winnings." That requirement distinguishes a "player" from one who "profits from unlawful gambling," which is defined as when:

* * * a person, acting other than solely as a player, accepts or receives money or other property pursuant to an agreement or understanding with another person whereby the person participates or is to participate in the proceeds of unlawful gambling.

ORS 167.117(17) (emphasis added).

(2) No material assistance

The second requirement for a person to engage in gambling "solely as a contestant or bettor" is that the person not "render[] any material assistance to the establishment, conduct or operation of the particular gambling activity." That requirement distinguishes a player from a person who "promotes unlawful gambling," which is defined as:

* * * a person, acting other than solely as a player, engages in conduct that materially aids any form of unlawful gambling. Conduct of this nature includes, but is not limited to, conduct directed toward the creation or establishment of the particular game, contest, scheme, device or activity involved, toward the acquisition or maintenance of premises, paraphernalia, equipment or apparatus therefor, toward the solicitation or inducement of persons to participate therein, toward the conduct of the playing phases thereof, toward the arrangement of any of its financial or recording phases or toward any other phase of its operation. A person promotes unlawful gambling if, having control or right of control over premises being used with the knowledge of the person for purposes of unlawful gambling, the person permits the unlawful gambling to occur or continue or makes no effort to prevent its occurrence or continuation.

ORS 167.117(18) (emphasis added).

A "person who gambles at a social game of chance on equal terms with the other participants" does not "render material assistance" by arranging or facilitating the game, such as by "inviting persons to play, permitting the use of [their] premises," or "supplying cards or other equipment" to be used in the game as long as they do so for free. The requirement that such persons gamble in the game on equal terms means that they must gamble on the same or like terms as other players and have no advantage. WEBSTER'S at 766 (defining "equal" to mean "of the same measure, quantity, amount, or number as another or others : LIKE * * * like, as great as, or the same as another or others in degree, worth, quality, nature, ability, or status * * * like, as great, or the same for each member of a group or class[.]"). If the gambler who arranges or facilitates the game does not gamble on equal terms as the other players, the person is not a "player," but instead a promoter, and the game does not qualify as a social game. The same result occurs if the person receives any fee or remuneration for arranging or facilitating the game.

3. "Between players" applied

a. Dealers who do not gamble in the game

We next apply the "between players" requirement to various scenarios that we are informed may arise, beginning with the situation where a person deals cards but does not gamble in the game. Such a dealer is not a "player" because he does not gamble in the game as players must. The question is whether the requirement that the "game" be "between players" precludes a non-player dealer in a social game, or stated alternatively, may only players deal in a social game?

As discussed above, "between" means "involving the reciprocal action of: involving as participants[.]" WEBSTER'S at 209 (emphasis added). Thus, the question becomes whether being "involved" in the "game" means playing in the game as a contestant or bettor, or whether it also includes performing acts that materially assist the game. We conclude that the legislature likely intended the former. The legislature did not define "game." The pertinent ordinary definition is "a physical or mental competition conducted according to rules in which the participants play in direct opposition to each other, each side striving to win and to keep the other side from doing so -- see GAME OF CHANCE." WEBSTER'S at 933. A "game of chance" is one where "chance rather than skill determines the outcome." Id. We glean from that definition that participating or being involved in a social "game" means "play[ing] in direct opposition," i.e., taking part in the competition as a contestant or bettor.

By contrast, in ORS 167.117(18) the legislature described acts that materially aid the game, including "conducting the playing phases of the game," which would include dealing the cards. The legislature expressly allows private businesses, private clubs, and places of public accommodation to materially aid social games by providing their premises (and presumably the tables and equipment as well) if cities or counties authorize it. But, at the same time, as we will discuss below, the legislature prohibited the persons connected with those places from being players. Thus, the legislature distinguished between playing in the game and materially aiding the game, and intended to allow non-players to facilitate the game at least in some ways.^{3/} For that reason, it appears from the text and context that the legislature intended the "between players" requirement to ensure that only the contestants and bettors in social games meet the requirements of ORS 167.117(16). We consulted legislative history for guidance and found none to alter our conclusion based on the text and context.

Consequently, if a group of friends gathers to play and one does not want to bet in the game, but offers to deal the cards, the game would qualify as a social game if all other requirements are met. But as discussed further below, such a dealer may not receive a tip or any fee, due to language in the definitions of “player” and “social games” (i.e., the “house” prohibitions) that forbid anyone from dealing cards for a fee or remuneration.

b. Bankrolled players

A second issue arising from the “between players” requirement is whether a social game may have a player who is not betting their own money but is “bankrolled” (who plays with capital supplied in whole or part by someone else who shares any winnings). We addressed that issue in a previous opinion and concluded that a social game may not have any bankrolled players; we adhere to that conclusion. 38 Op Atty Gen 1455, 1457-1460 (1977). Although not expressly stated in the prior opinion, the conclusion rests implicitly – at least in part – on the rationale that only the people who play in the social game may stand to win or lose any money from the game. To qualify as a “player” a person must engage in gambling (risk something of value) solely as a contestant or bettor without receiving or becoming entitled to receive any profit other than “personal” gambling winnings. “Personal” means “of or relating to a particular person.” WEBSTER’S at 1686 (emphasis added). There is no question that the “particular person” referred to in the definition of player is the contestant or bettor, not a third party. A bankrolled player does not risk his or her own funds (at least to the extent of the “bankroll”). Moreover, the presence of a bankrolled player makes the game take on a professional, rather than social, flavor. 38 Op Atty Gen at 1457-60.

c. Fee or advantage by person arranging or facilitating game

Finally, the “between players” requirements makes clear that if a person who gambles in a social game receives any fee or remuneration for arranging or facilitating a game, the game is not a social game because the person would no longer qualify “solely as a player,” and the game would not be “between players.” Similarly, if one who arranges or facilitates the game has some advantage in the game, he or she is not playing on equal terms with other players, and the game is not social.

We interpret “facilitating” the game to include dealing the cards. The “player” definition exempts from prosecution for materially assisting unlawful gambling (i.e., promoting) persons who perform “acts directed toward the arrangement or facilitation of the game” if they gamble in social games on equal terms with other players and receive no fee or remuneration for facilitating or arranging the game. Although dealing the cards is not one of the listed examples of arranging or facilitating the game, as discussed above, “conduct[ing] the playing phases” is listed as an act that “materially aids unlawful gambling” under ORS 167.117(18), and dealing the cards is part of conducting the playing phase of the game. Consequently, a person who gambles in a social game and also deals the cards must not have any advantage in the game or receive any fee or remuneration for dealing. This means that for games like blackjack where the dealer has an inherent advantage, no player may hold the deal; rather the deal must rotate. It is not enough for the dealer to offer the deal to other players, who then may decline to accept it. If the deal in a game like blackjack does not in fact rotate, the game is not a social game.

HOUSE PROHIBITIONS

1. House

a. Text and context

We turn now to the prohibitions on “house” involvement in a social game. Specifically, a social game must have no “house player,” “house bank,” “house odds,” or “house income from operation of the social game.” Because all of those prohibitions are on “house” activity, we begin our analysis with the meaning of “house.” Two rules for construing statutory text and context are particularly pertinent here. First, we assume that when the legislature uses the same word in related statutory provisions enacted as part of the same law, it intends the word to have the same meaning in all provisions. Tharp v. PSRB, 338 Or 413, 422-23, 110 P3d 103 (2005). Where, as here, the legislature used the same word repeatedly in the same provision, that assumption is particularly strong. Second, we assume that the legislature did not intend any portion of its enactments to be meaningless surplusage and should adopt a construction, if possible, that gives effect to all provisions. ORS 174.010 (“where there are several provisions or particulars such construction is, if possible, to be adopted as will give effect to all”). See, e.g., State v. Connally, 339 Or 583, 593, 125 P3d 1254 (2005) (stating rule against surplusage). Several of the “house” prohibitions established in ORS 167.117(21) potentially overlap and the latter rule guides us to adopt a construction that gives each some independent meaning if possible.

“House” has three plain meanings in the gambling context: (1) “the operators of a gambling game”; (2) “the management of a gambling establishment”; and, (3) “a gambling establishment: CASINO.” WEBSTER’S at 1096. Beginning with “operators of a gambling game,” the most relevant definition of “operator” is “a person that actively operates a business * * * whether as owner, lessor, or employee.” WEBSTER’S at 1581 (emphasis added). The relevant definition of “operate” is “to manage and to put or keep in operation whether with personal effort or not[.]” Id. “Business” means “a [usually] commercial or mercantile activity customarily engaged in as a means of livelihood and typically involving some independence of judgment and power of decision” as well as “a place where such an enterprise is carried on [.]” Id. at 302. The relevant definition of “commercial” is “from the point of view of profit : having profit as the primary aim.” Id. at 456. In sum, “house” in the sense of an “operator of a gambling game,” means a person who manages, puts, or keeps in operation a gambling game as a means of livelihood with profit as the primary aim.

The second and third potential meanings of “house” are a “gambling establishment” and “the management of a gambling establishment.” The former encompasses the latter as “establishment” means “a more or less fixed and usually sizable place of business or residence together with all the things that are an essential part of it (grounds, furniture, fixtures, retinue, employees).” WEBSTER’S at 778 (emphasis added). Another potential meaning of “house” in this context is a “gambling house,” which is “a place where gambling is carried on or allowed as a business[.]” WEBSTER’S at 932. Obviously all of those definitions are closely related, differing only in whether they refer to the personnel of a gambling establishment, the place itself, or both. “House” in the sense of “operator of a gambling game,” differs from those definitions in that the “house” is not tied to any particular place, but includes any person who operates a game for profit.

It is not readily apparent whether the legislature intended “house” to encompass all of those plain meaning senses or not. The context suggests that none of those definitions are completely satisfactory. Specifically, ORS 167.117(21) expressly prohibits the “house” from receiving any income from operating a social game, but in all relevant definitions, a “house” operates the game for profit. In other words, ORS 167.117(21)’s requirement that the “house” not receive any income from operating a social game effectively prevents there from being a “house” – as Webster’s would define it – in a social game.

The legislature may have intended “house” to mean any private business, private club or place of public accommodation where a social game occurs even if the place makes no income from the game. That interpretation would stretch the plain meaning of “house” to include any business where social games occur, rather than only places that operate gambling games as a business. It is true that those places operate for a profit and, if they allow social games, do so from a profit motive (e.g., the sale of food and drink) even if they derive no income directly from the game. Although that interpretation solves the problem of reconciling the definition of “house” with the prohibition on “house” income, it gives no effect to the “house” prohibitions that apply to games in private homes pursuant to ORS 167.117(21)(a).

Alternatively, the legislature may have intended “house” very broadly to include any place where a social game occurs, including a private home. Although that interpretation gives effect to the house prohibitions in ORS 167.117(21)(a), it creates other problems. First, that definition does not fall within any of the plain meanings. Second, subsection (a) prohibits a “house player” in games in private homes and interpreting “house” to include any place where a social game occurs to mean that the person who invited friends into his or her home to play a “social game” could not play. That interpretation would conflict with the definition of “player” which, understandably, recognizes that a person who hosts a social game in his or her home may play.

Finally, the legislature may have intended “house” to include any business establishment where a social game occurs (including the owners, managers and employees of the place) and any person who operates a game for profit rather than for social purposes. That interpretation gives effect to the house prohibitions, both in business establishments and private homes, and reconciles the prohibition on a house player in a private home and the definition of “player” because only a person who sought to make a profit in a private home would be prohibited from playing. But that definition continues to have a rather nonsensical application to the house income prohibition, because that prohibition would literally mean that anyone who operates a game for profit cannot make any income from operating the game. No potential definition of “house” that gives effect to all prohibitions remedies that problem. Because the legislature’s intended meaning of “house” is ambiguous after examining the text and context, and the legislative history may help us understand the intended meaning of “house,” we consult that history.

b. Legislative history

The “social game” exception (but not the statutory definition of the term) first appeared in Oregon law in 1971. In 1970, the Criminal Law Revision Commission drafted a proposed criminal code for Oregon, accompanied by an explanatory commentary, both of which it submitted to the 1971 legislature. Article 30 of the proposed code concerned gambling offenses and was adopted by the legislature. Or Laws 1971, ch 743, §§ 263-265. Sections 264 and 265 criminalized promoting or profiting from unlawful gambling; participating as a player was not unlawful under those provisions. Id. at §§ 264 and 265. Article 30 did not exempt social games from the definition of “gambling”; rather the definition of “player” – which was important at the time to describe behavior that would not be subject to criminal sanction – contained a social games exception that provided then, as now, that a person who gambles on equal terms in social games does not promote gambling by arranging or facilitating the game for free. Or Laws 1971, ch 743, § 263(7). The commission explained the social game exception in its commentary on Article 30:

The underlying purposes of the sections [264 and 265] are to get at the professional who exploits the popular urge to gamble. *The individual citizen who places a bet is not criminal * * . Neither are friendly social games criminal under the draft and a person does not promote gambling if he merely invites friends in for a game and provides cards or other paraphernalia. This results from the definition of “player” in § 263(7) * * *. The Michigan revisers neatly state the case for excluding the friendly social game: “Private consensual games are generally accepted as socially if not legally proper, and there is no point in preserving the fiction that they are undesirable.” Id. at 257 (quoting Michigan Revised Criminal Code at 465 (emphasis in original)).

Criminal Law Revision Commission, Proposed Oregon Criminal Code, Final Draft and Report, Article 30, § 263(7) (1970) (emphasis added).

Therefore, in 1971, the social game exception appeared to be confined to games in “private” homes, and only players could “invite friends in” for a game without subjecting themselves to criminal sanction. The social game exception did not expressly allow social games in public places like card rooms.

At the next legislative session in 1973, representatives of hotel, restaurant, and bar workers’ unions, as well as representatives of private clubs, asked the legislature to amend the gambling laws to allow social games in business establishments. They informed the legislature that card rooms had been shut down due to the 1971 legislation and those closures had caused unemployment among waitresses, bartenders, card room attendants, and workers who made the food and beverages sold in card rooms. See, e.g., Minutes, Senate and Federal Affairs Committee (SB 803), May 10, 1973, at 5-6.

Some opposed the amendment, arguing that allowing social games in public places would encourage professional gambling. Id. at 6. But John Runstein, the president of a private social club, testified that “[c]ard room owners thin[k] that if these social games are permitted on their premises and a reasonable service charge is required for the use of the premises and for the labor involved of not more than 25% of the total income of the overall operation of the complete premises, that anything like professional gambling would be eliminated.” Id. at 5.

The legislature agreed. It retained the “social game” language in the definition of player, amended the gambling laws to exclude social games from the definition of “gambling,” and provided the following definition of “social games,” which allowed social games in public places:

[a social game is] a game, other than a lottery, between players in a private home or private business, private club or in a place of public accommodation where no house player, house bank, or house odds exist and the gross income from the operation of the social game does not exceed 25 percent of the gross income of the private business, private club or public accommodation.

Or Laws 1973, ch 788, § 1 (emphasis added).^{4/}

That definition was somewhat ambiguous about whether the “house” prohibitions applied to games in private homes or only to business establishments. The income limitation, at least, expressly applied only to private businesses, private clubs, and places of public accommodation. The legislature did not discuss whether the prohibitions applied to games in private homes. Nor did it discuss the meaning of “house.” But when the legislature first used the term “house,” public places expressly could make income from operating a social game as long as that income was a small percentage of their overall business. Thus, in 1973, “house” could have referred to a place that operates a social game for profit.

The reason given for limiting the income that those places derived from social games was to prevent professional gambling in Oregon. Unfortunately, that purpose was not achieved. In the 1974 special legislative session, House Speaker Eymann told the House Rules Committee that the 1973 legislation had allowed large stakes professional gambling to take place in Oregon and that the Attorney General had received numerous requests for corrective legislation. Minutes, House Rules Committee (LC 283), February 7, 1974 at 7; Minutes, House Rules Committee (LC 283), February 11, 1974 at 5; and Minutes, House Committee on Judiciary Special Session (LC 283), February 11, 1974 at 2. Phil Roberts, representing the District Attorneys Association, stated that enforcement of the 1973 legislation’s income limitations had been difficult “because of the various ways a house may collect money, such as charging to enter an establishment or charging an amount per hour for use of a table. Accounting of funds collected in such ways would be almost impossible.” Id. at 3.

Legislative Counsel Rich Gatti testified that to remedy professional gambling and enforcement problems that “the broad definition” of social games had caused, he and the Attorney General’s office had drafted a bill that deleted the provision allowing social games in public places and the corresponding income limitations on those places. Id.

In subsequent hearings, legislators voiced their support for allowing social games in businesses as well as private homes for the limited purpose of allowing people to play a social game of cards in a warm place where food was served. See, e.g., House Judiciary Committee Minutes HB 3327 Hearing (HB 3327), February 18, 1974 at 3 (statements of Senator Keith Burns and Representative Grace Peck to that effect). Pat Randall, Representing the Oregon AFL-CIO, favored allowing only playing rummy and pinochle in taverns, as those games had been happening in bars in Oregon for many years. Minutes, House Judiciary Committee Special Session (HB 3327), February 20, 1974 at 1. The minutes from that meeting reflect the following remarks by Representative Paulus:

[T]he last session of the legislature had amended the gambling law specifically to take care of the problem in the Portland area where the district attorney had raided and closed down all card games. The law as enacted by the 1973 regular session, she said, was doing exactly what the opponents of the measure had predicted – bringing big time, professional gambling into Oregon. The thrust of that amendment, as advanced by its proponents, was to allow exactly the type of gambling Mr. Randall was advocating, and the result was that in order to allow a few individuals to play a game of cards in the warmth of a tavern, the law had permitted organized, professional gambling to come into Oregon, which was not the intent of the legislature. The current problem had been forced upon the local governments by the action of the legislature, and she believed it was the responsibility of the legislature to undo the harm that had been done.

Id. at 2. Although various amendments were proposed, at the end of the day the legislature “undid the harm” caused by the 1973 legislation by continuing to allow social games in business establishments, but by amending the social game exception to prohibit the “house” from receiving any income from operation of a social game. Or Laws 1974 (spec sess), ch 7, § 1 (now codified as ORS 167.117(21)). The amendment also expressly applies the “house” prohibitions to games in private homes.

In sum, the legislature never discussed what it intended “house” or any of the house prohibitions to mean, except the prohibition on house income. But its discussion of that prohibition reflects a clear intention to apply the prohibition to private businesses, private clubs, and places of public accommodation. Thus, the Assembly considered those places to be the “house.” And even though the legislature’s discussions focused solely on games in those places, it expressly applied the same prohibitions to games in private homes. It appears, then, that the legislature intended a broader definition of “house” than merely the business establishments where social games may occur. Finally, the history demonstrates that the legislature intended the prohibition on “house income” to prevent professional gambling and to make the gambling laws easier to enforce. It is evident that these were primary considerations in defining social games. Accordingly, we keep those purposes in mind when interpreting the house prohibitions.

Based on the text, context, and legislative history, we interpret “house” to include: (1) all private businesses, private clubs, and places of public accommodation where social games occur, including their owners and personnel; and (2) any one who operates a social game for profit rather than for social purposes. “Operates” for those purposes would include any action that materially aids the game as described in ORS 167.117(18).

2. “House income from operation of the social game”

Having interpreted “house,” we now examine the prohibitions on “house” activity in a social game, beginning with the prohibition on “house income from operation of the social game.” The plain meaning of “income” is “a gain or recurrent benefit.” WEBSTER’S at 1143. Hence, the house may not receive any gain or benefit from the operation of a game. In a 1974 opinion, this office opined that:

no “house income” * * * mean[s] precisely that: counties and cities cannot, by ordinance, authorize an establishment to charge for the privilege of holding or participating in a social game. Whatever benefit the business derives must be a consequence of the mere existence of the game, not revenue specifically exacted from the game or its participants. So construed, the Act prohibits not only a [$1.00 per hour per player fee to defray expenses of the operation of the social game] but also, inter alia, the raising of prices charged for some or all of the establishment’s regular services in a manner to coincide with the hours during which social games are permitted on the premises.

Attorney General opinion letter dated April 17, 1974 to Honorable Robert Elliott. That interpretation accords with the plain language, context, and legislative history of the provision. In addition, since anyone who attempts to operate a social game for profit is the “house,” the prohibition on house income effectively prevents anyone at any place from making any income from operation of a social game.

3. “House player”

The prohibition on a “house player” prevents the house from gambling in a social game. Again, “player” means:

A person who engages in any form of gambling solely as a contestant or bettor, without receiving or becoming entitled to receive any profit therefrom other than personal gambling winnings, and without otherwise rendering any material assistance to the establishment, conduct or operation of the particular gambling activity. A person who gambles at a social game of chance on equal terms with the other participants therein is a person who does not otherwise render material assistance to the establishment, conduct or operation thereof by performing, without fee or remuneration, acts directed toward the arrangement or facilitation of the game, such as inviting persons to play, permitting the use of premises therefore and supplying cards or other equipment.

ORS 167.117(16). Assuming, however unlikely, that the house could ever qualify solely as a player, it is expressly prohibited from doing so. Thus, in addition to being prevented from making any income from operation of a social game, the house is prohibited from betting and becoming entitled to receive gambling winnings from competing in the game.

That prohibition prevents games where players bet against the house from qualifying as social games. For example, a bar, restaurant, hotel, private club, or any person who attempts to operate a game for profit could not supply a dealer in a blackjack game, because the house would be competing to receive gambling winnings. More broadly, the prohibition on a house player prevents the house from betting in any social game, even games where players bet against each other, rather than the house, because the house may never compete for gambling winnings.

4. “House bank”

Next, a social game may have no “house bank.” Webster’s contains several definitions of “bank” that specifically apply in the gambling context: (1) “GAMBLING HOUSE” [which, as discussed above, is a place where gambling is carried on or allowed as a business]; (2) “a person or persons conducting a gambling house or game; specif: DEALER”; (3) “the sum of money in certain gambling games (as chemin de fer) that is deposited or stated by the dealer as a fund from which to pay his losses”; and, (4) “the whole supply of chips available for purchase and use by players in a game played with chips (as poker).” WEBSTER’S at 172.

In addition, the verb “bank” in the gambling context means “to act as banker for (as a gambling game).” Id. And, “banker” in the gambling context has three meanings: (1) “the player who keeps, sells, and redeems the supply of chips used in a game – compare BANK (referring to the meaning of the whole supply of chips available for purchase and use by players in a game played with chips (as poker)); (2) “the person who agrees to cover the bets of all players up to a certain limit established as the bank”; and, (3) “a dealer (as in blackjack) or a gambling house or its representative against whom all bets must be placed.” Id.

The most natural meaning of “house bank” in this context is the house acting as the banker for a game. Some prohibitions on activities that the house might do as the banker are duplicative of other prohibitions. For example, the house player prohibition prevents the house from competing in a social game, thus, bets may not be placed against a house dealer. And covering bets or selling chips to the extent that the house would make a profit from doing so is precluded by the prohibition on house income. But we construe the house bank prohibition to go further and to preclude the house from having any involvement in the financial aspects of a social game, even if the house makes no profit from its involvement. This construction gives the house bank prohibition some independent meaning. For example, the house could not keep, sell or redeem chips in a social game, even if the house makes no profit from doing so. On the other hand, the house does not appear to be prohibited from simply supplying chips that the players themselves sell, keep and redeem. That interpretation gives effect to the legislative purpose for the prohibitions – ease of enforcement and preventing professional gambling – while still recognizing that the house may provide equipment for a game if it handles no money and does so free of charge.

5. “House odds”

Finally, no “house odds” may exist in a social game. Potentially pertinent definitions of “odds” are: (1) the “amount of difference by which one thing exceeds or falls short of another: amount in excess or defect”; (2) the “difference favoring one of two opposed things : balance of advantage or weight of opposition”; (3) “the probability that one thing is so rather than another or that one thing will happen rather than another : balance of probability : greater likelihood CHANCES”; (4) “the ratio existing between the amount to be paid off for a winning bet and the amount of the bet placed <the horse was running at odds of 6 to 1.” WEBSTER’S at 1563. No context or legislative history clarifies which meaning the legislature intended. Nor could we find any definition of “house odds” in the texts that we consulted on gambling law.^{5/}

Again, our guiding rule is to give this provision some independent meaning, if possible, that is not subsumed by the other prohibitions.^{6/} To give “house odds” independent effect, we interpret it to preclude the house from having any involvement in establishing the ratio between the pay off for a winning bet and the amount of the bet placed even when it has no money at stake in the game. For example, this prohibition would preclude the house from setting odds governing pay-out for a bet between players or awarding a prize or gift certificate to the winner of a game.

CONCLUSION

We summarize our conclusions as follows:

Private businesses, private clubs or places of public accommodation that allow social games and their personnel may not: (a) derive any income from the game (including charging cover, usage or rental charges for the place or equipment), or extract any money directly from the participants other than for the sale of food and drink on the same terms as all other patrons (even if an establishment sells food and drink on the same terms to all patrons, if it charges inflated prices in relation to other similar establishments and its only patrons are social game players that may be evidence that the establishment is in fact making income from operation of social games); (b) compete or bet in the game; (c) act as “banker,” by being involved in the financial aspects of a social game, including selling, keeping and redeeming chips even if it makes no profit from doing so; or (d) have any advantage or set the ratio between the payout and bet amount;

- Anyone who attempts to operate a social game for profit – no matter where – will be deemed to be the “house” and subject to the same prohibitions;

- A person who invites friends in for a social game in the person's home may bet in the game as long as the person is not operating the game for profit and may arrange the game and provide the necessary equipment as long as the person receives no fee or remuneration for doing so and plays on equal terms with the other players;
- Any social game players who deal in a game where the dealer has an inherent advantage, such as blackjack, must pass the deal and receive no fee or remuneration for dealing; and,
- All persons who bet in a social game must stand to gain only their own personal gambling winnings and no other profit from the game.

^{1/} ORS 167.121 provides that “[c]ounties and cities may, by ordinance, authorize the playing or conducting of a social game in a private business, private club or in a place of public accommodation. Such ordinances may provide for regulation or licensing of the social games authorized.”

^{2/} Obviously, if no participants in a game are betting, the game does not meet the general definition of “gambling” and requires no legislative exemption or authorization to be lawful.

^{3/} We also recognize that we have answered this question differently before. See Letter of Advice dated September 17, 1982, to Polk County District Attorney Doug Dawson (OP-5409) at 3-4 (rejecting that notion that a “dealer does not participate because he handles the cards, supervises and * * * inevitably works for tips”); Letter of Advice dated April 14, 1983, to Senator Fred Heard (OP-5460) at 5 (concluding that providing a role for anyone other than “players” – in that case dealers – “takes the activity out of the social gaming exception”). Those opinions were issued prior to PGE and Gaines and did not examine the issue using their methodology. To the extent that the opinions are inconsistent with this opinion, we overrule them.

^{4/} Changes in statutory text over time are considered part of the context of the statute. Krieger v. Just, 319 Or 328, 336, 876 P2d 754 (1994). We discuss the change in statutory text in our discussion of legislative history, because the statutory change alone does not eliminate ambiguity and it makes more sense to do so.

^{5/} Several gambling websites do discuss “house odds.” A typical website explains “house odds” this way:

A casino earns money by paying winners at “house odds.” This is an amount that is slightly less than the true odds of winning the contest. Let’s say we’re flipping a coin and the bet is one dollar. The true odds of winning are 1 to 1, but the house odds might be 0.95 to 1. In other words, a loss to the casino costs $1, but the casino will only pay 95 cents when a player wins. That’s the house edge. Sometimes professional gamblers can use strategy to shift the edge away from the casino, but in most situations the casino has an advantage.

<http://casinogambling.about.com/od/oddsandends/a/houseedge.htm>. Whatever clarity that definition provides, the courts are unlikely to rely on gambling website definitions. And, since the house may not bet at all in the game under the prohibition on “house player” that definition gives no independent meaning to the prohibition on “house odds.”

^{6/} The house cannot gamble in a social game, nor may it pay off winning bets. Consequently, the prohibitions on a house player and house bank effectively preclude the house from having any advantage in a social game. House odds must mean something more than simply having an advantage in a game or it adds nothing to those prohibitions.

GOLD BEACH CITY COUNCIL AGENDA REPORT

Agenda Item No. 10 c.

TITLE: Business Plan Review

SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND:

The Business Plan was developed from two town hall meetings held in the summer of 2010 and adopted by resolution in September 2010. We have reviewed the plan quarterly and annually since then. We have completed many of our priority/action items.

My question to the Council: do we feel it is time to have another town hall for further input from the community-- to perhaps add or amend the 8 goals--or do feel we still have ongoing work to complete in the current plan? Based on the existing plan what unfinished goals does the Council want staff (all departments) to focus on for 2014?

From an administration standpoint these priority/action items are on the top of my list, but I would like direction from the Council on what you feel are the priority items city staff should be focusing on:

- fiscal and budget policies,
- developing a three year revenue forecast,
- work more on pursuing grant funding
- the community shelter as part of a multi-use community center
- possibility of relocating city facilities
- annexation issue
- economic development activities
- seek funding for comp plan update

GOLD BEACH CITY COUNCIL AGENDA REPORT

Agenda Item No. 10 d.

TITLE: Hwy 101 Sewer Loan payoff

SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND:

The Budget Committee authorized the payoff of the DEQ loan we received in 2005 for improvements to the main sewer line under Hwy 101. The original loan amount was $1,531,000 at 3.19% for 20 years. The current balance on the loan is approximately 890K (actual payoff would be slightly more/less depending on payoff date). It was decided when the budget was adopted in June that the council would revisit the payoff mid-year and decide at that time whether to actually pay it off.

FINANCIAL IMPACT:

Will reduce the City's liquid assets but the interfund loan would pay a higher interest rate than we currently receive on the City's deposits (less than $0.20%)

RESOLUTION R1213-14

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING AN INTERFUND LOAN BETWEEN THE HWY 101 SEWER DEBT FUND AND THE SEWER RESERVE, BUILDING RESERVE, AND WATER RESERVE FUNDS

WHEREAS, the City obtained a Clean Water State Revolving Fund loan in 2005 from the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality to make improvements to the main sewer line under Hwy 101; and

WHEREAS, the original loan amount was $1,531,000, at 3.19%, with a 0.50% annual fee for 20 years; and

WHEREAS, current interest rates on savings reserves are less than 0.25%; and

WHEREAS, the Council has determined that it is fiscally responsible to pay off the remainder of the loan debt to DEQ with reserve monies and reimburse the reserve funds at 3%; and

WHEREAS, ORS 294.468 permits interfund loans contingent upon adopting a ordinance or resolution to authorize the loan; and

WHEREAS, the Sewer Reserve, Water Reserve, and Building Reserve Funds have sufficient liquid assets to loan to the Hwy 101 Sewer Debt Fund to pay off the DEQ loan.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Gold Beach City Council hereby authorizes an interfund loan of $770, 000 between the Hwy 101 Sewer Debt Fund and Sewer Reserve ($462,000), Water Reserve ($154,000) and Building Reserve ($154,000) Funds to be paid back in ten (10) annual installments with an interest rate of 3%. RE: Compliance with Mutual Agreement and Order (MAO) No. WQ/M-WR-02-001
WQ- Curry County / Permit No. 103006 / File No. 33864

Dear Mr. Newdall:

I am writing to you today to thank the City of Gold Beach for completing construction of the new sequencing batch reactor that will serve the City's needs for many years. With completion of this project, the City's obligation under MAO No. WQ/M-WR-02-001 is fulfilled. This was a significant undertaking for a small community and we appreciate the city's efforts to see it through to completion.

Municipal wastewater treatment facilities play a very important role in protecting water quality and help achieve our goal of having all waters fishable and swimmable. By constructing the new wastewater treatment system with increased capacity, the City has resolved the long standing issue of an excessive number of sanitary sewage overflows. The upgraded facility also provides better treatment, reducing pollutant concentrations and effectively eliminating toxic levels of ammonia and chlorine.

I also thank the City for operating and maintaining the treatment plant in the past and we trust that the city will maintain these new facilities and continue to provide skilled operators to produce the highest effluent quality possible.

Again, congratulations on the successful completion of an ambitious project and thank you for your continued efforts in improving our environment.

Sincerely,

Dick Pedersen
Director

RULE NO. 4 Adjourned Meetings Any meeting of the Council may be continued or adjourned from day to day or for more than one day, but no adjournment shall be for a longer period than until the next regular meeting thereafter.

RULE NO. 5 Presiding Officer The Mayor shall be the Presiding Officer at all regular, special and executive meetings of the Council of which the Mayor is in attendance. The Mayor shall be limited only to such limitations as those imposed by Section 17 of the City Charter, reason for acting as Presiding Officer. The Mayor, or in the absence of the Mayor, the Mayor Pro Tem, shall take the chair at the hour appointed for the Council to meet and shall immediately call the members to order. The City Administrator or Recorder shall enter in the minutes of the meeting the names of the members present.

RULE NO. 6 Mayor Pro Tem At its first meeting in January of each year, the Council shall appoint a Mayor Pro Tem from its membership. Whenever the Mayor is unable, on account of absence, illness or other cause, to perform the functions of the office, the Mayor Pro Tem shall act as Mayor. RULE NO. 7 Temporary Mayor Pro Tem In case of the absence of the Mayor and Mayor Pro Tem, the City Administrator shall call the Council to order and call the roll of the members, and if a quorum is found to be present the Council shall proceed to elect, by a majority vote of those present, a Temporary Mayor Pro Tem of the meeting to act until the Mayor or Mayor Pro Tem appears. RULE NO. 8 Quorum A majority of the Council shall constitute a quorum to do business but a less number may meet and adjourn from time to time and compel attendance of absent members.

RULE NO. 9 Decorum and Order The Mayor shall preserve decorum and decide all questions or order, subject to appeal of Council.

- a) During Council Meetings the Councilors shall preserve order and decorum and shall neither by conversation or otherwise delay or interrupt the proceedings or refuse to obey the orders of the Mayor or the rules of the Council. When addressing Councilors, Mayor, staff, or audience formal titles shall be used to be courteous and respectful (i.e. Mayor Smith, Councilor Smith, Chief Smith, Mr. Smith, Mrs./Ms. Smith, etc.). Every Councilor desiring to speak shall address the chair and upon recognition by the Mayor, shall limit comments to the question under debate. Every Councilor desiring to question the administrative staff shall address questions to the City Administrator, who shall be entitled to either answer the inquiries or designate a staff member for that purpose. A Councilor, once recognized, shall not be interrupted while speaking unless called to order by the Mayor, or unless a point of order is raised while the Councilor is speaking, the Councilor shall cease speaking immediately until the question of order is determined. If ruled to be in order the Councilor shall be permitted to proceed; if ruled to not be in order the Councilor shall remain silent or shall alter his or her remarks as to comply with the rules of the Council.
- b) Members of the administrative staff and employees of the City and other persons attending Council meetings also shall observe the same rules of procedure, decorum and good conduct, applicable to the members of the Council. Any person making personal, impertinent and slanderous remarks or who becomes boisterous while addressing the Council or attending the Council meeting, shall be removed from the room if the Sergeant-At-Arms is so directed by the Mayor. Such person or persons shall be barred from further audience before the Council. Unauthorized remarks from the audience, stamping of feet, whistles, yells and similar demonstrations shall not be permitted by the Mayor who may direct the Sergeant-at-arms to remove such offenders from the room. Aggravated cases shall be prosecuted by an appropriate complaint signed by the Mayor. In case the Presiding Officer should fail to act, any member of the Council can move to require the Presiding Officer to act to enforce the rules and the affirmative vote of the majority of the Council present shall require the Mayor to act.

- c) Any citizen desiring to address the Council shall be recognized by the Mayor. A citizen addressing the Council shall limit remarks to the item under discussion, and shall be allowed a maximum of 5 minutes to speak. The Mayor may allow additional time for individual citizen comments, upon a majority vote from the Council. All comments shall be addressed to the Council as a whole and not to any individual member thereof. All comments addressed to any administration of the City shall be addressed to the City Administrator and not to any individual City employee. Citizens shall not be disorderly, abusive, or disruptive, nor shall they present irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious testimony. No persons other than members of the Council and the person having the floor shall enter into any discussion, either directly or through a member of the Council without the permission of the Mayor.

The Mayor shall then put the question, "Shall the decision of the Chair stand as the decision of the Council?" If the majority of the members vote "AYE", the ruling of the Mayor is sustained; otherwise it is overruled.

RULE NO. 16 Voting When the question has been called for, the Mayor shall ask for the voice vote by consecutive numerical position. RULE NO. 19 Dissent and Protest Any Councilor shall have the right to express dissent from or protest against any Ordinance, Resolution or decision of the Council and have the reason, entered into the Council minutes. Discussion of the Consent Calendar shall be limited to five minutes. Any item placed on the Consent Calendar shall be removed at the request of the Mayor or a Councilor prior to the vote being taken on the Consent Calendar items. All remaining items on the Consent Calendar shall be disposed of by a single motion "to adopt the Consent Calendar" which shall not be debatable. Adoption of the Consent Calendar shall be by the affirmative vote of all Council members present at the time the vote is taken and shall have the same effect as a separate vote for each item. These motions shall have precedence in the order indicated. Any such motion except a motion to amend shall be put to a vote without debate.

RULE NO. 28 Motions to be Stated by Presiding Officer - Withdrawal When a motion is made and seconded it shall be stated by the originator or the Mayor before debate. A motion may not be withdrawn without the consent of the Councilor seconding it.

RULE NO. 29 Motion to Adjourn - When not in Order - When Not Debatable A motion to adjourn will be in order at any time except as follows:

- 1} when made as an interruption of a member while speaking
- 2} when the previous question has been ordered
- 3} while a vote is being taken

A motion to adjourn is debatable only as to the time to which the meeting is adjourned.

RULE NO. 30 Motion to Lay on the Table A motion to lay on the table shall preclude all amendments or debate of the subject under consideration. If the motion should prevail, consideration of the subject may be resumed only upon motion of a Councilor voting with the majority and with the consent of two-thirds of the Councilors present.

GOLD BEACH CITY COUNCIL AGENDA REPORT

Agenda Item No. 10 h.

TITLE: Current Committee/Commission Roster

SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND:

Council Rule No. 44 requires that I provide the Council with a current list of committee/commission members annually. Generally this is provided at the January meeting.

We have four vacancies on the Planning Commission. We have advertised for months with few candidates. I have run an ad in the papers a few times this year and we have the vacancy posted on the city webpage, facebook, and on the bulletin boards. I will ask KGBR to make the announcement on the radio.

Two of the budget positions expired on December 31st. Typically I contact the member and ask if they wish to serve again. If the two incumbents don't want to, I will post those vacancies as well.

The Urban Renewal Advisory Committee has one vacancy. We will start having monthly meetings this spring.

Finally, Council Position #1 (McVey), Position #3 (Gregory), and Position #5 (Kaufman) all expire this December. I will provide those councilors with election filing data soon. Usually the filing deadline is about 2 months from the November election.
